CBHS officially celebrates Bicentennial kickoff

Surviving classroom temperatures ranging from 80-90 degrees, students, faculty, and administrators started to school on September 3

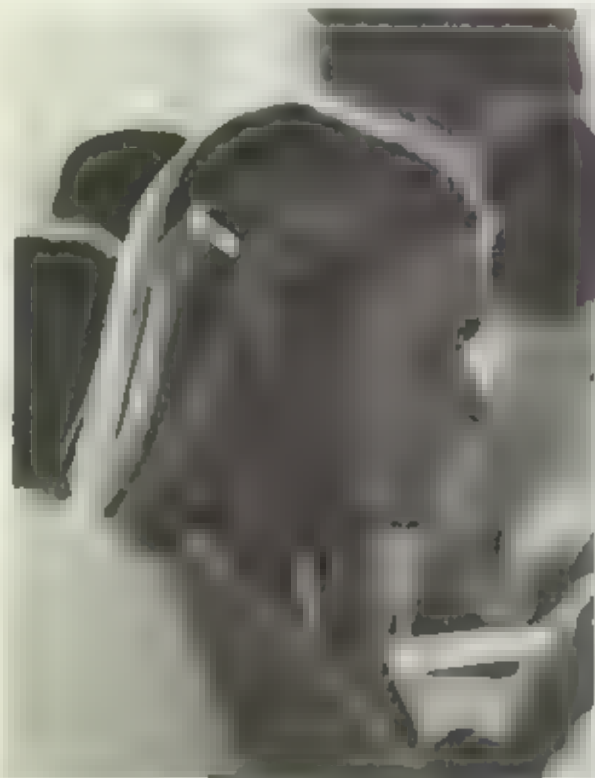

Construction on the new Industrial Arts wing and faculty lounge began. As a result, student parking was drastically reduced. The Drama Department was also affected by the construction. All classes were relocated to the north end of campus, and held in portable buildings

CBHS officially celebrated the kick-off of the Bicentennial on September 9. Hundreds of people gathered in the horseshoe before first hour, as the

Concert Choir and Concert Band performed the National Anthem

Taking advantage of a new state law a few students met at the flag pole daily, to say the Pledge of Allegiance. The law stated that everyone attending school must be given the opportunity to say the pledge every day

A large group of people gathered in the field for a special event.

76 Homecoming Week activities evolve around America's past

Homecoming Week activities were different from past years. Each day of the week was planned to reflect a specific era in America's history. Several contests were held around the cafeteria. These included a pie eating contest, Women's Suffrage Slave Auction, and dance contest.

The Parent Music Association held their traditional spaghetti dinner to raise funds to help the Band and Choir go to Washington D.C. Homecoming ended with the crowning of Missy Ankenbrandt and Larry Benjamin as royalty, and the Spartans defeating West on the football field.

Members of the Volleyball, Girls' Golf, Freshmen Tennis, Badminton, and Cross Country teams played the majority of their games during October.

Open House was attended by parents on the 21st. The Junior Class sponsored a bake sale to raise funds for the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Student Executive Board chose Denise Doyle and Mike Collins as Boy and Girl of the month for October.

Sophomores Dawn Byrne and Sandy Rusinek discuss their predictions concerning who will win Homecoming elections.

Football team triumphs over PU, fails to conquer Maryvale High Football hopes and despairs were felt by Spartan fans as the team won a place in the divisionals. A Colorado Playoff was held between Alhambra, Phoenix Union, and CBHS at Central High, with CBHS winning. Next was the game against Maryvale, and the end of aspirations for a State Championship.

"Interview" and "The Serpent" were the Drama Department's fall productions. The plays were presented at The Phoenix Little Theater. Both were comments about life; the first dealing with the feeling of being only a number, and the second whether or not history has an effect on modern life.

The Concert Choir and Advanced Girls' Chorus presented a Parent Night early in the month.

The Girls' Badminton Team took the State title, bringing the first championship of the school year to CBHS.

While rehearsing a solo for upcoming Christmas concerts, Tracy Coles laughs at her accompanist's remarks.

Woody Richardson contemplates the proposed fencing of CBHS while attending a board of directors meeting.

Tom Schneider, Joe Tamer, and Randy Robinson listen as Coach Parker gives them instructions at the game against Trevor Browne.

Phoenix Little Theater serves as replacement performance site

Interview and The Serpent, two plays written by Jean-Claude van Itallie, were presented by Masque and Gavel.

Construction prohibited access to the old drama room, where past plays had been presented. For this reason performances took place at Phoenix Little Theater, upstairs in Theater One.

In the first play, Interview, our mechanized modern life was exposed through exaggeration and laughter. Human beings searching for help and understanding were rejected by highly mechanized and threatening institutions.

During The Serpent, called "A Ceremony" by the author, the actors and audience confronted the questions of where we now stand in relationship to the past, and how we set limitations.

Musicians play, sing at holiday parade, concert

Music assemblies were part of the Christmas season. The Concert Choir and some of their alumni performed many seasonal favorites at the annual Christmas Assembly. The band played at the assembly, and also marched in the Fiesta Bowl Parade.

Sportswise, the Spartans were still trying to win a few games. The basketball teams showed improvement over their previous seasons. Girls had another new sport in softball.

Christmas vacation started on a happy note with the dismissal of school at noon on Tuesday the 23, because of the new construction. The vacation period was marred when a security guard was shot on campus.

Girl's, Boy's Staters participate in modern government workings

Boys and Girls State, sponsored by the American Legion, were designed to let the young student understand the workings of a modern government at the state, county, city and precinct levels.

A state was formed based on Arizona and the Arizona Constitution.

Boys State was held on the Northern Arizona University campus and lasted one week. Cities, counties and traffic cops were created for the project.

Girls State took place on the NAU campus early in the summer and also lasted a week.

Students who had finished their junior year were eligible to attend and were nominated by teachers.

National Merit Semi Finalists top 5% of state

Receiving scores in the top 5% of the state on the PSAT, Valerie Bert, Mike Filigenzi, John Gallagher, Doug Garant, Ethan Rauch, Nancy Tribensee, and Dianna Willich qualified to become National Merit Semi Finalists

The seven students were some of the 15,000 semi-finalists across the nation competing for more than 3,000 scholarships, or $1,000 National Merit Scholarships available to the semi-finalists who became finalists

Members of the Student Board of Education acted as an advisory council to the Board of Education

By voicing student opinions and ideas representatives Woody Richardson and Dianna Willich strove to attain the goal of betterment in all phases of education

After serving on the Board, Woody and Dianna both discovered they understood more about why schools have certain regulations and requirements

C BHS student representative to the Citizens Advisory Council was Jim Ogsbury. Ogsbury, a junior, was appointed by the Student Executive Board to hold this position

The CAC is the taxpayers' voice to the school board. School regulations, activities, and community affairs were among the topics discussed this year. Meetings were held monthly at the District Administrative Offices, and attended by approximately 50 members, each representing a different aspect of community life

PMA awards scholarships to students in Music Department

Margie Heinle, Paul Cooke, and Robert Rodack received the Cressey Award, Cooke Award, and Judd Shafer Award, respectively. These honors are bestowed each year to exceptional music students at CBHS.

The PMA, in conjunction with Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Silvester, awarded NAU Summer Music Camp scholarships to attend Drum Major Camp at Boise State University, in Idaho.

While attending camp, many CBHS students received scholarships and awards from NAU. Patty Rodack, Paul Cooke, and Debbie Wilczewski were chosen to return next year, free of charge, to be camp counselors. Kathy Wells and Ray Kildav received the Choir and Jazz Awards, respectively. These awards include full tuition scholarships to attend camp next year.

11 art students win Gold Keys for paintings, pottery, drawings

Recognized by the Scholastic Art Awards Program for their achievement in art, eleven CBHS students received Gold Keys

Winning projects were examples of several types of art. Paintings were oil, watercolor, and acrylic. Pottery included free form vessels and objects. Pencil sketches were also entered

Carl Kelly won the Valley National Bank Sponsor Award for his entry - a ceramic truck. This entitled him to enter the State Scholastic Art Show, and receive a monetary prize

Out of five Gold Keys awarded for work in ceramics, CBHS students received three of them. Vic Verbalaitis, ceramic teacher, attributed this to much hard work

Students tour Europe during summer, learn about countries

By visiting Madrid, Spain; Rome, Italy; Florence, Italy; Paris, France; and London, England, members of the Foreign Study League gained a better knowledge of foreign cultures and lifestyles.

The trip lasted 28 days, allowing approximately 4-5 days in each city. The group, consisting of 11 members from CBHS, visited many places of artistic architectural, and cultural beauty, in addition to attending various musical and theatrical performances.

Throughout the span of the trip's length, students studied the governmental and historical significance of each country visited, enabling them to receive an elective credit toward graduation.

Staff bestows Sweetheart title on Mary, Larry

Mary McCarthy and Larry Ashton were chosen as the 1976 Blade Sweethearts. This honor is bestowed annually upon one or two seniors who have contributed their time and talents to the school and community.

Mary is the Concert Chairperson of Orchesis, the modern dance group, and has also been active in the Drama Department. She plans to attend Phoenix College and study dance. She is also interested in music.

Larry is the president of Masque & Gavel, and has been in or connected with all of the drama productions since his freshman year. He was one of four boys enrolled in Orchesis during his senior year.

SHIELD staff honors seniors Rodack, Jankov

Basing their decision on all aspects of personal accomplishments, the yearbook staff chose Patty Rodack and Ron Jankov to reign as 1975-76 SHIELD Royalty. It was felt by the staff that the two seniors selected had not previously been sufficiently recognized

Singing dominated Patty's contributions in music throughout high school. Advancing from Girls' Chorus to Concert Choir in her junior year, she had leads in both musicals, and was named Choir's "Best Actress of the Year" for her portrayal of Bloody Mary, in "South Pacific." As a senior, she was vice-president of Choir, and sang with Camelback Singers. Serving as manager of the Spartan Band also occupied a great deal of her time

During the course of her high school years, Patty's club memberships included Bible, International, Girls' League, Parnassus, NHS, SNHS and WOC

For three consecutive years, Patty was awarded PMA scholarships to attend NAU Summer Music Camp. While at camp during the summer of '75, she was the recipient of a NAU Senior Award, enabling her to return the following year as a counselor

By excelling academically, Patty graduated number nine in the Class of '76. She plans to continue her schooling by studying in the medical field

ball, Junior Varsity Golf, and Freshman Tennis. During the past two years he has played summer league basketball

As a Boys' State delegate, Ron was elected to the office of State Treasurer, the highest title attained by any of the CBHS representatives

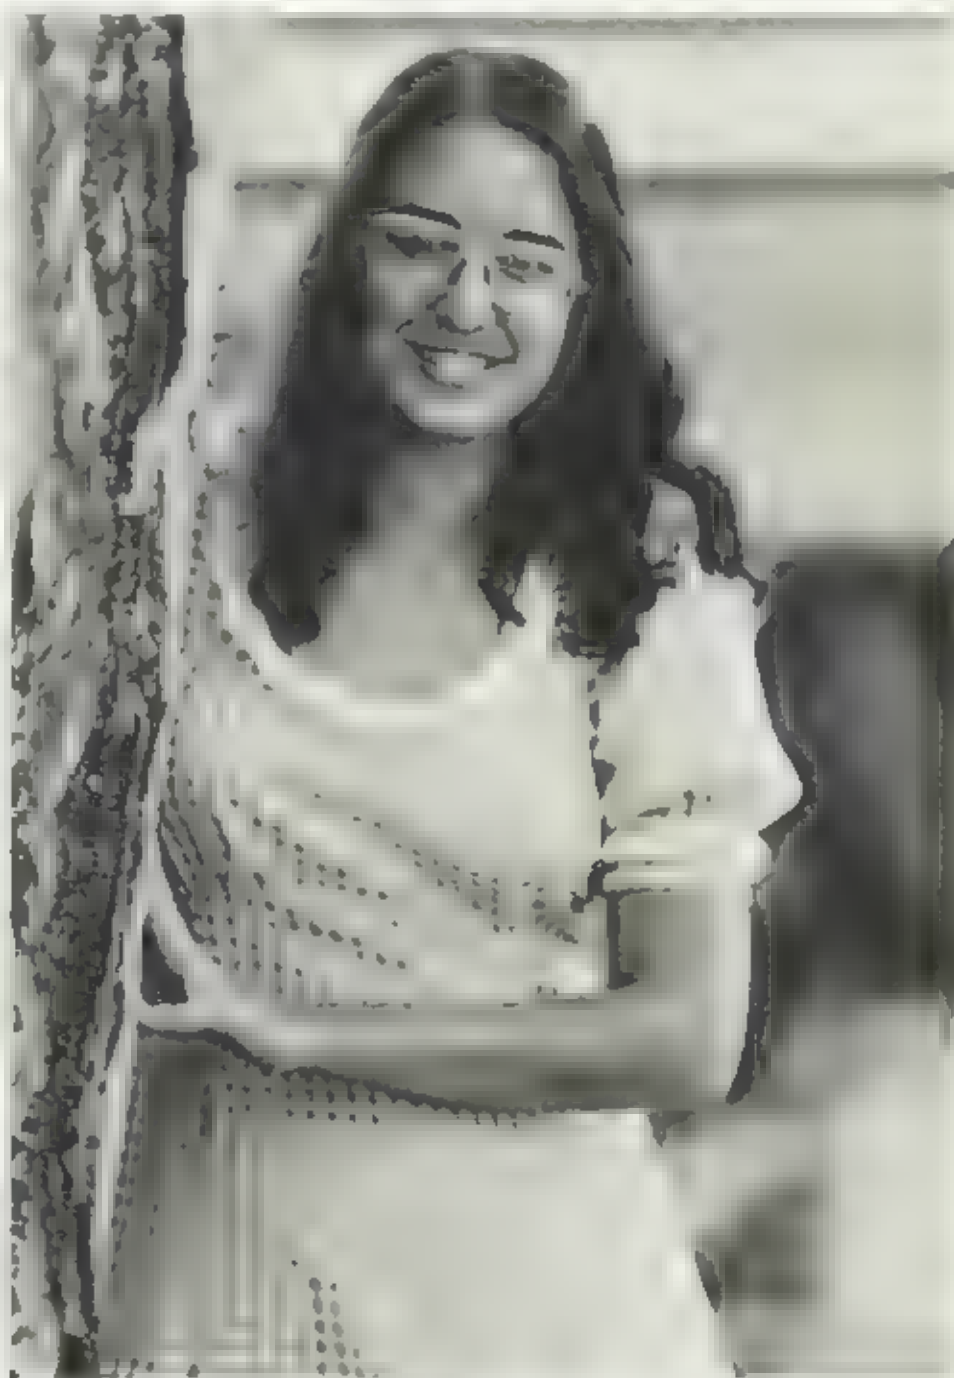

During his senior year, Ron served as secretary of the Key Club. He was also appointed to the position of Lieutenant Governor for the Key Club's southwest district. This area includes Arizona, New Mexico, and West Texas.

Ron loves to travel, and enjoys sking, surfing, and playing the piano. He is also interested in business management, namely in the stock and bond markets

Ranked number eight in the senior class, Ron plans to continue his education by majoring in engineering

Orchesis strives for recognition as true art form

Orchesis, the dance performance class, strove to make modern dance recognized as a true art form at CBHS

With only four students returning from last year, the group was not as experienced as in years past, but according to instructor Denise Jobski, the members displayed tremendous motivation

Each girl had to audition to become a member of the class. Once accepted, they composed their own routines by combining modern, jazz, ballet, and primitive dance styles

During half time, the band performed a variety of songs, including "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "The Eyes of the World."

Spartan Band ranks superior on Band Day

After rating the CBHS Marching Band "Superior," the judges at ASU Band Day commented that ours was the best band on the field.

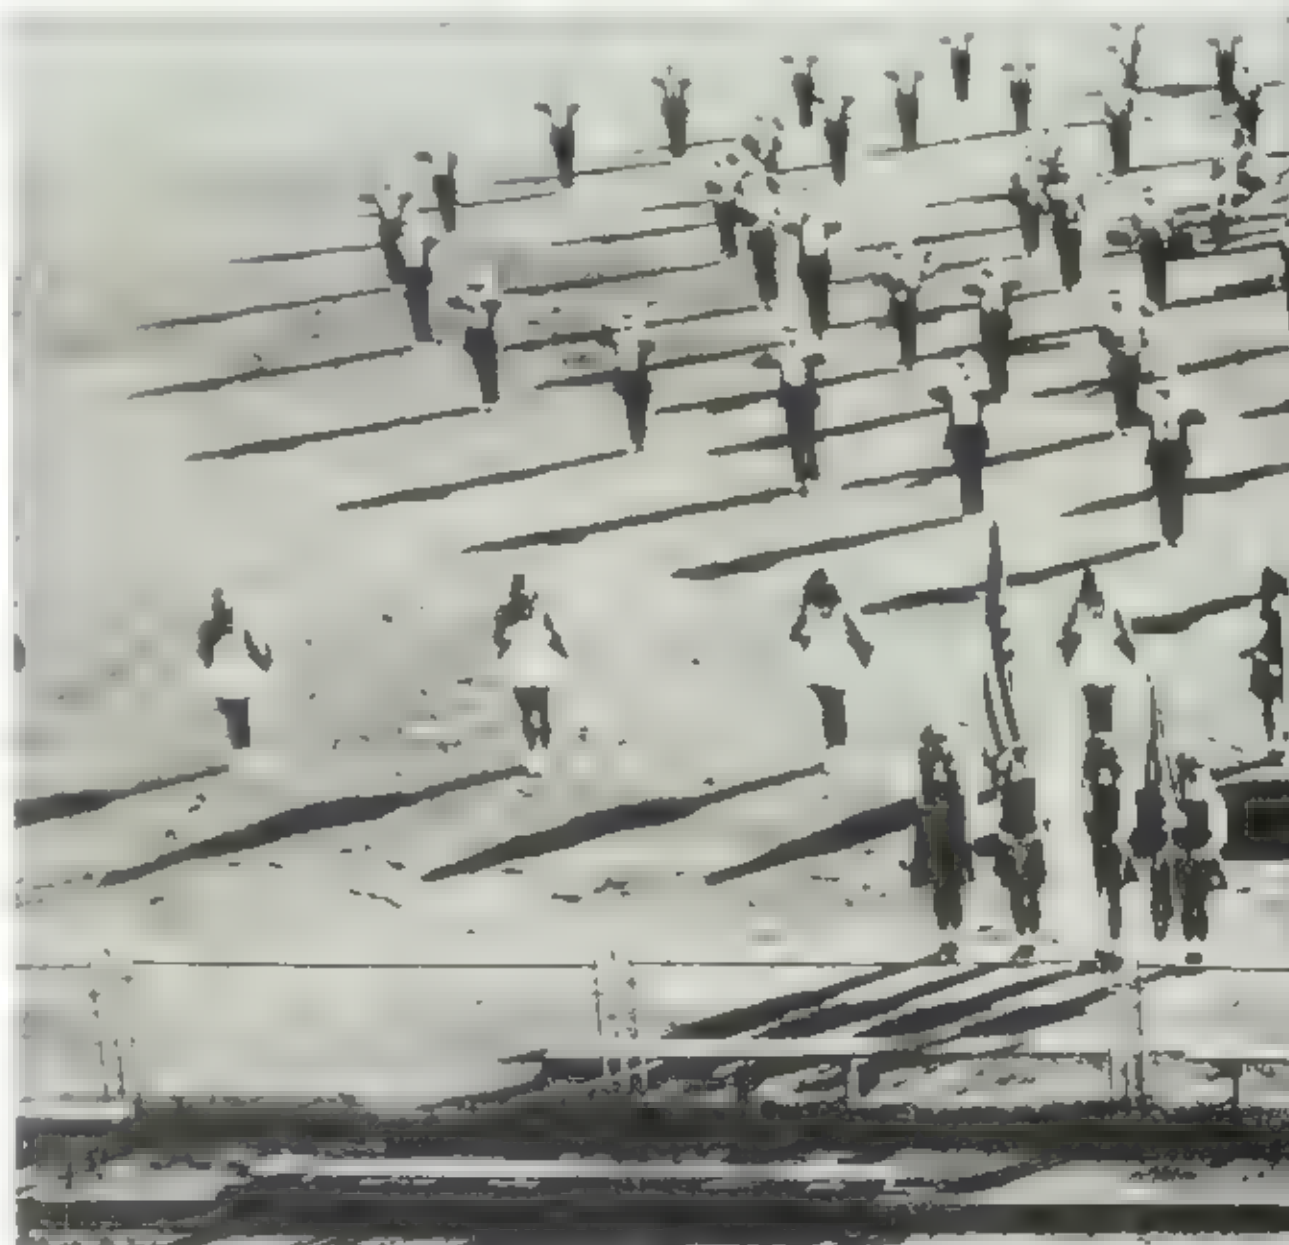

Participating in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Washington D.C. was among the Marching-Concert Band's highest points of the year. Other activities included marching in the Veteran's Day Parade, performing for the State Senate in January, joining the ASU Symphonic Band for a concert playing a Bicentennial concert at Symphony Hall, and competing in the Mountain States Music Festival in May.

The Flag and Rifle Corps were introduced as a new section of the Marching Band. Consisting of approximately 25 girls, primarily underclassmen, the Corps were added to increase color and spirit.

Throughout the entire school year, the Band practiced at least six hours every week, in addition to class time. Four more hours were required during marching season, bringing the total rehearsal time to ten hours per week, not including the five hour-long class periods.

Concert Choir chosen to perform in Washington D.C. celebration

Chosen as the sole vocal group to perform at the St Patrick's Day parade in Washington, D.C., the Concert Choir concentrated their major efforts toward preparing for the March tour.

Consisting of 68 members, the Choir sang at many events. Their first public appearance of the year was one week after school started, at the CBHS Bicentennial kick-off. Other performances included singing at the PMA Spaghetti Dinner, Christmas Assembly, and their own Parent Night. The Parent Night concert, presented in early November, received a standing ovation from those attending. During the last number, a medley of old songs, the audience was invited to sing along. In February, Choir put on a show in East High's auditorium.

To help finance their trip to Washington, D.C., the Choir joined forces with the Band. In addition to sponsoring a dance during the football season, the groups sold candy, pretzels, spirit T-shirts, and kazoos. Several off campus car washes and auctions were held, as was a community newspaper drive.

Jazz Laboratory competes in NAJE festivals

Consisting of approximately twenty members, the Jazz Laboratory met every day during seventh hour.

By concentrating their major efforts toward learning basic jazz theory, the students developed their abilities in blues improvisation; a form of impromptu performance that involves playing a melody line over specific chord patterns.

Performing as a group, the Jazz Lab participated in all the in-state NAJE festivals. They also sponsored several of their own concerts.

Playing selections described by conductor William Silvester as "good music," the CBHS Orchestra rehearsed every day during fourth hour.

Their repertoire consisted of a wide variety of music styles. Some of the pieces they played included DeBussey's "Claire de Lune," excerpts from Handel's "Messiah," and the English folk song "Greensleeves."

The Orchestra performed in the Christmas Assembly, and participated in the Mountain States Music Festival in May.

Camelback Singers perform for donations at local churches

Composed of the twenty top voices from Concert Choir, the Camelback Singers performed as a group separate from it.

In addition to singing at several luncheons and club meetings, the ensemble visited various local churches and sang for donations. All proceeds went toward financing the Choir's trip to Washington, D.C.

Singing songs that were selected to provide a wide cross section of vocal music, the Advanced Girls' Chorus rehearsed daily during sixth hour.

In early November, the girls sang at the Concert Choir's Parent Night. Also during this time, they sold Astropops to help finance their trip to the Grand Canyon. The excursion was held in May.

Striving for a new look, the Blade invited many guest reporters to write in their areas of expertise. Heidi Grossman, junior, was editor-in-chief. The Blade staff spent the second semester concentrating on the issues. Instead of covering past news, the Blade tried to look at why events happened.

Part of the Blade's new look resulted from a change in printing stock and printers. Dropping the newsprint look, the Blade went to a magazine print stock. The addition of larger prints and more cartoons tended to give the Blade an overall magazine appearance.

Fulfilling student, school needs project for student government

Representing students and fulfilling the needs of the school was the purpose of the Student Senate. Bills passed included appropriating money to sponsor students going to the Model United Nations Convention in Tucson, and to provide money for Freedom Month.

"One of the main problems with the Student Senate is that senators sit through a meeting confused with procedure, and then after the meeting, they complain," commented Senate President Larry Benjamin.

One way to rectify this, he said, was to get more senators to participate in the issues and to have a better understanding of parliamentary procedure.

The Student Executive officers put ideas together, made decisions and then presented them to students for their ideas and opinions.

Students find new careers in HERO

HERO held their annual car wash at the beginning of the year. Funds raised by this event were highly successful in aiding the club.

"Members received three units credit for HERO, but we consider it more of a club than a class," stated President Donna Schroeder.

HERO, or Home Economic Related occupations, is a service club established to help students with careers in home economics.

HERO members attended school first through third periods. Fifth through seventh periods, members worked in an off-campus job dealing with human relations.

DECA cheese sales earn way to annual mart

Wisconsin cheese was a major sale for DECA, as they attempted to earn their way to the annual merchandising mart held in California. Also planned were visits to the Sears Distribution Center, Universal City and Disneyland. Other trips included the 12th annual Del Webb Regional held in Tucson to promote career development.

DECA's purpose is to build future leaders in marketing, merchandising, and business, and is open to any junior or senior enrolled in a merchandising or marketing class.

DECA sponsor Charlene Lyons commented that the group was functioning much more as a whole this year and had become more active. One of the most successful events, the group seemed to feel, was the installation breakfast held in November.

The main objective of Arete was to promote girls' athletics. All of Arete's 65 members had to follow the prerequisite of receiving a varsity letter.

School projects that Arete participated in included a progressive dinner in which Arete members ate one course of a seven course meal at different houses; the school can drive, in which Arete raised 45 cans; and decorating the girls shower room with posters dedicated to different teachers.

Arete also went Christmas caroling at the Desert Crest Hospital.

The main event for Arete was the ski trip to sunrise on February 28-29. Arete members tried to raise enough money so that they would not have to pay for their trip. In order to do this, they sold candy bars, pretzels, and items at park-and-swap.

Interact club sponsors Korean orphanage, organizes blood drive

National Honor Society makes transition to service group

National Honor Society was an honor club, "although," its president, Mary Fylstra, said, "we are trying to be more of a service club."

One project was the paperback book bazaar which was a way for students to sell to other students the books that had to be bought for classes. All funds received by NHS were passed on to the original book owners.

There was little need for any fund raising for the club, since the only expenditures involved induction ceremonies and the gold tassels worn on the mortarboards of the top five-per cent of the graduating class.

Counting money, Dianna Willich and Valerie Bert, a bazaar was held to raise money for the club, and all the money was turned over to the original owner of the books.

The French National Honor Society is an academic group devoted to helping students gain a fluency with the language; this helps them with national tests and college entrance exams. Students in the Society must have a 1 grade average in French and a 2+ grade average in other classes.

Social activities included fondue dinners and foreign film showings. They were conducted completely in French.

Girls Athletic Association declined in membership this year. Due to this factor, the club tried to aim its activities towards freshmen girls. Sponsor Ms. Barbara Hippensteel felt that the varsity sports added to the problem, because most upper class girls on teams couldn't find time for GAA.

GAA had several archery tournaments, racketball and volleyball games as after school activities. miniature golf, along with roller skating, ice skating and bowling were the sports participated in at night. GAA also had their annual Pot Luck Picnic at Squaw Peak Park. New activities included a trip to the Grand Canyon, and going to see the Phoenix Suns play.

Ms. Hippensteel, said, "Although our group is smaller this year, the girls have been quite active."

Debbie Townsend plays a game of racketball with GAA members. The group met on Wednesday, after school to have these activities.

Racketball, handball games held by Club

Created so that students would have a chance to have a court and play, the Handball Club also held handball and racketball tournaments.

"We taught the basic rules to new students, but we're not really a formal club," said Handball sponsor, Dick Allegretti.

"We have tried to hold intramural tournaments between other schools in the district, but we're the only club of our type in the district."

In a test at the TRAGYC convention held in Tucson, two people were given several drinks, but not enough to be legally drunk. Then they were given a driving test to show that even though not legally drunk, a drinking driver's ability is impaired enough to cause danger to himself and others.

Another project was Tot Safety Town, a scaled-down version of a town for teaching small children the safety rules for pedestrians and bike riders in the city.

Masque & Gavel presented as their two major productions, Interview & The Serpent and The Madwoman of Chailot. The fall production was dramatic and the spring production was a comedy. The plays were performed at Phoenix Little Theatre and North High this year, due to CBHS' loss of its drama room

The club also sponsored a Christmas party and an end of the year banquet, as well as Beginning Drama One-Acts presented at Madison #2

Masque & Gavel members participated in plays, either in the casts or on crews, selling play tickets, and attending various speech tournaments

"The club is growing bigger and

CBHS Forensic Team takes sweepstakes majority of times

The CBHS Forensic Team once again won first place sweepstakes trophies at most every tournament attended.

"We have a very strong team this year, in fact the best we've had in many years," stated Mr James Harvey. "We've been taking an unbelievable number of first places in each category of each tournament we go to. We've got powerful speakers in every category. It's incredible!"

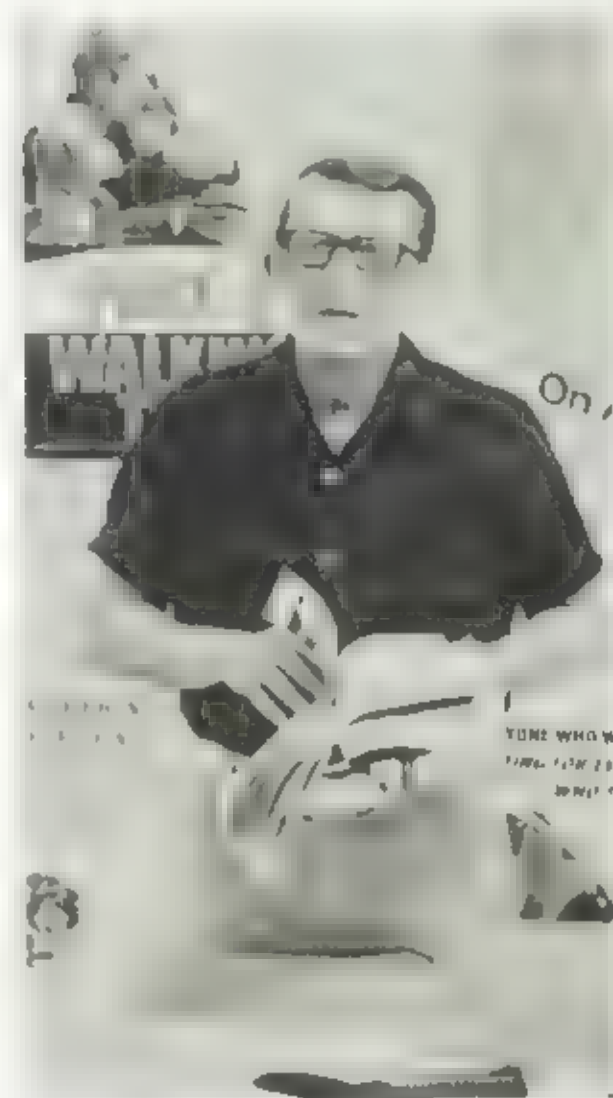

The size of the team has doubled in the last two years. It is now attracting freshmen as well as juniors and seniors.

This year, the State Speech Tournament was in Flagstaff. Along with the students eligible to compete on state level, CBHS sent the entire A.I.A. speech team along to cheer the participants on and to make the trip more enjoyable.

At district and state tournaments each school may enter a scene from a play. The selection chosen must not exceed 20 minutes. This year's scene was from The Night Thoreau Spent In Jail, a drama. The students in it had to audition. The cast was: Larry Ashton, Kirk Orlando, Randy Sanders, Lynda Cameron, Gary Sacks, and Carol Cummings.

One major change in Forensics was that the district financed the tournaments instead of Masque & Gavel. This allowed the team to rent buses for the tournaments with the money normally spent entering the participants.

Ski Club rates Purgatory trip as exceptional

Members of the CBHS Ski Club felt the year went exceptionally well. On their first trip to Purgatory, Colorado, the new skiers did remarkably well as old ski clubbers led the way down several difficult runs.

Vice-President Kelly Cornell expressed surprise during the club elections when her opponent dropped out of the running and she found herself the only candidate. President Julie Sisk added that this year's club elected all girl officers.

Sponsor Gerald Clyde cheerfully announced the club had experienced no injuries during the trips due to the club's stressing of safety and a buddy system.

Flag, Pom sell greeting cards to raise money

Pom and Flag combined their talents in the performing of several dances through the year. Their new dances included Yankee Doodle Dandy for the Homecoming Assembly, and Sweet Georgia Brown for the Basketball Pep Assembly.

Both the Pom and Flag lines participated in the Rodeo and Fiesta bowl parades, and the high school Band Day at A.S.U.

Other activities included selling greeting cards and sponsoring Flag and Pom clinics. The girls practiced an average of eight hours per week, and also practiced with the band during the football season.

The girls performed at all of the pep assemblies and pep rallies. They also performed at all of the Varsity Basketball games.

The girls also had numerous fund raising activities such as a "Spartan Button" sale, "Shamrock Gram" sale, and greeting card sale.

The girls tried to raise school spirit by promoting enthusiasm within the team members. This included sponsoring a breakfast for the Varsity Basketball players.

The line consisted of five seniors and one junior.

Varsity gridgers win league title in playoff game

With only three defensive starters returning, lack of experience, and not being able to play as a team, hurt the beginning Varsity season. But as the season progressed, experience was gained and the team improved.

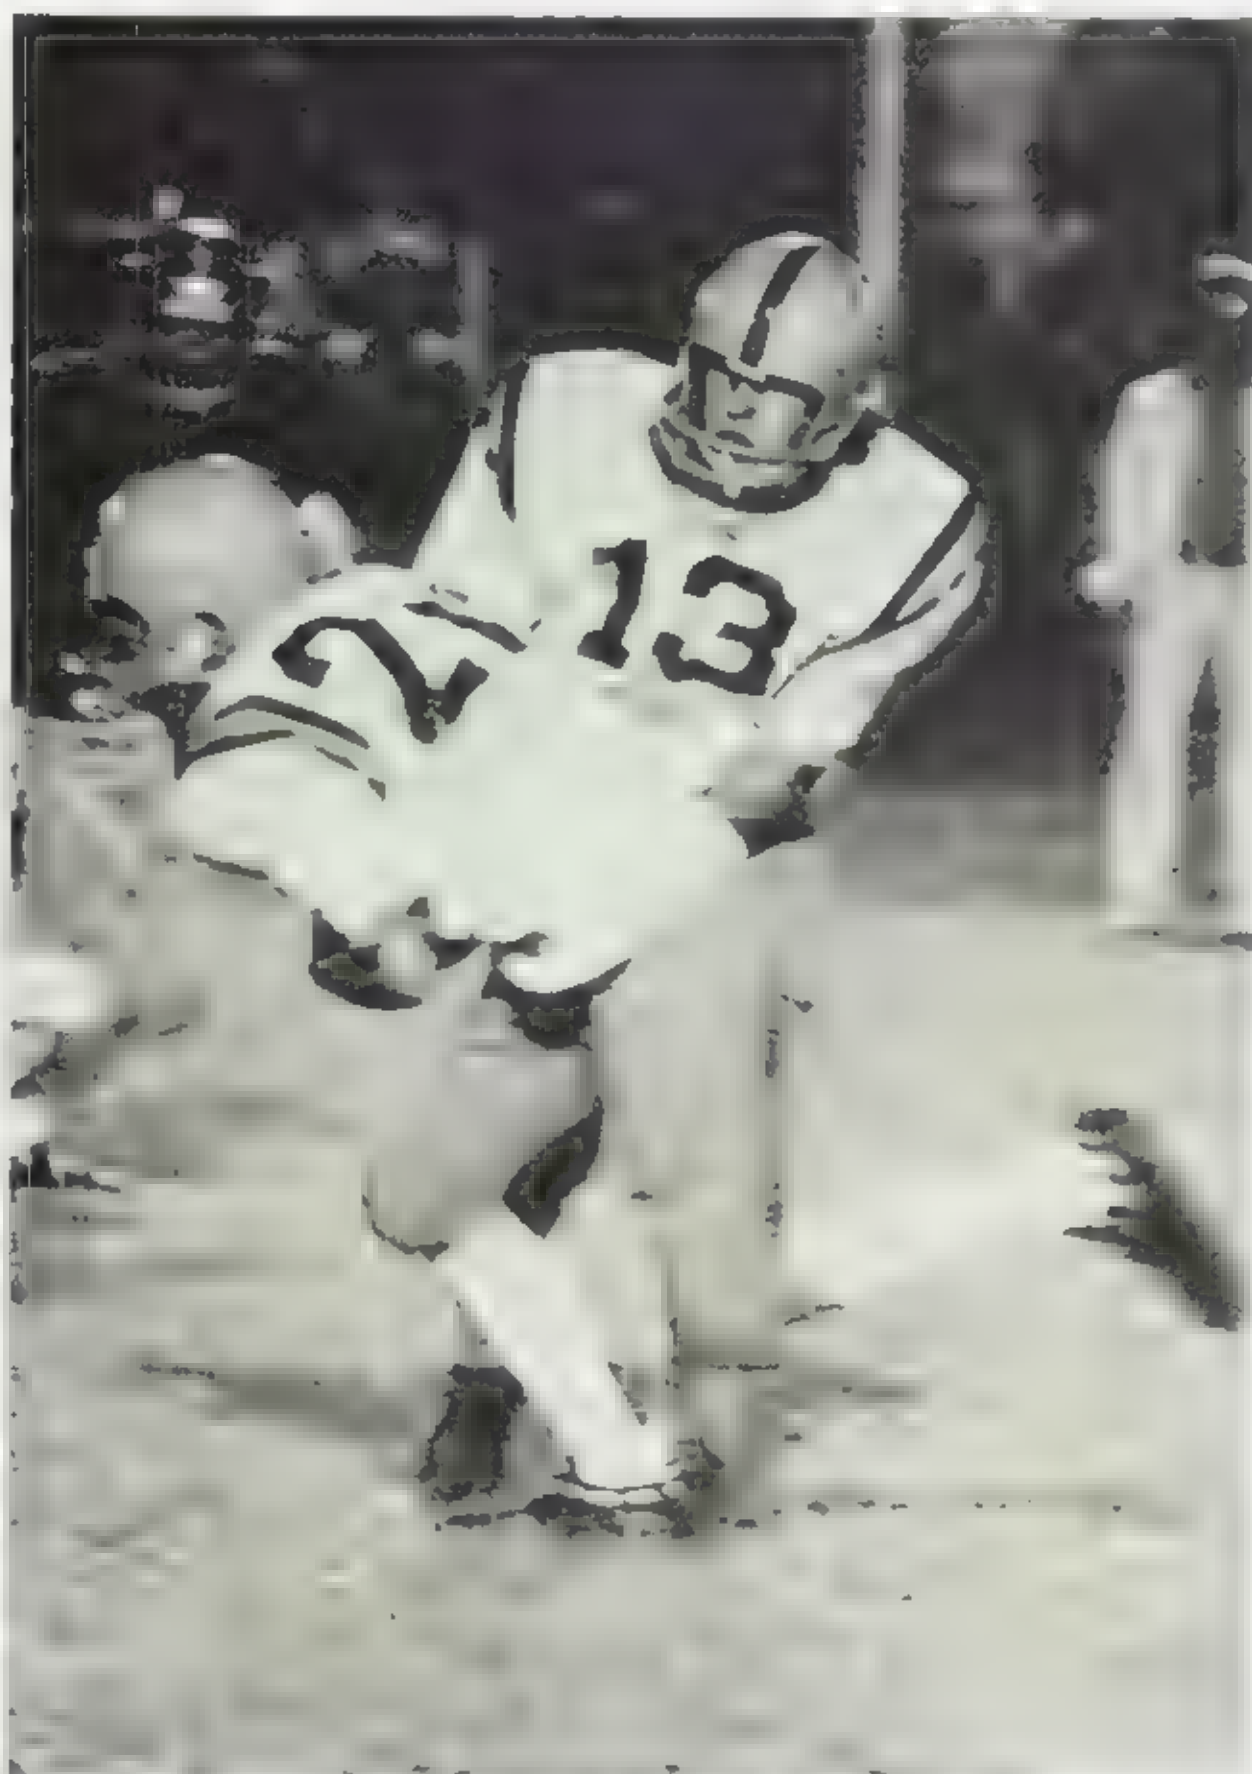

Going into their league games with a one win, four loss record, the optimistic Spartan team knew what had to be done. Winning four consecutive league games, the Spartans faced Alhambra for the league title. The Lions caught the Spartans sleeping too many times, winning 17-7. It wasn't over yet, for now was a "Colorado play-off."

Drawing a bye, Camelback was to face the winner between Alhambra and Phoenix Union. Playing Alhambra for league again, each team got ten plays, alternating the possession of the ball after each play. With each team scoring, the game ended in a 7-7 tie. Two additional alternating plays were used, with Camelback getting the ball first

An Alhambra offside and a three yard run by Stan Burger gave us a total of eight yards. With Alhambra failing to gain yardage, the game was won by Camelback, 9-7.

The Phoenix division game matched Maryvale and Camelback. The Spartans only score came in the fourth quarter with less than three minutes left. By then it was too late. Maryvale won 35-7.

JV wins six straight games after loss of first four Rocko Westfall, this year's team captain led the team to a hard earned 6-4 season. One other team member whom both the coaches and team alike agreed showed exceptional ability, was Rick Brooks. Rick, for most of the year, excelled as a runningback. Randy Morder, another runningback, and Henry Hemminghaus as linebacker combined their efforts to aid the team and gain recognition as two of this years most improved players.

Eight team members were drafted this season to the Varsity team because of their outstanding abilities during the JV year. Among these was Tom Sersow, who was moved up at the beginning of the year and played out the season actively with the Varsity athletes.

With help from blocker Jason LaBenz (70), runningback Rick Brooks (42) gains yardage.

Giving everyone a chance to play is what is important about Freshman football," stated Coach Dick McKivergan. "We made sure this was done." As in past years, the teams were selected by weight, not their ability to play. "We had a really good group of freshmen," continued Coach McKivergan.

Although the team's only loss was against East, Alhambra was noted as the team's outstanding game because of team effort put into the game.

Danny Anderson, Marty Hedlund, Chris Sandoval, Roger Walters and Ed LaBlanc were named as outstanding players on the team.

Team effort achieved as no outstanding players chosen

"Quickness and hitting" were what made three-year Coach Wertz's Lightweight Freshman Football Team so good this year. Because it was the first game of the season, and the opponent being the team that they usually don't beat, the Maryvale game was cited as the team's most outstanding game.

The only game lost this season was the last game against Alhambra

"Disorganization and injuries to key players were what caused the loss," stated the Coach. Mr. Wertz continually insisted that there were no "Most Outstanding" player(s) on his team. Yet, he did give credit to - Steve Tassinari, Defensive Captain and Ray Rawlins, Offensive Captain. The Coach also stated that Steve Kumagai was the "Most Improved" player.

The Cross Country team directed by Hans Schoenborn came in thirteenth out of twenty-two schools at the State meet held in November. The team also placed fifth, out of the twelve teams participating, at divisionals.

Training for the team starts in September, running five to eight miles a day. Sprint running and weight-lifting are also done as training.

According to Coach Schoenborn, the most exciting meet was against Phoenix Union. "The team was shocked when they beat them 21-32," stated Schoenborn.

For the third consecutive year, Greg Brady was chosen as the most valuable runner. Brian Ziegler was selected as most improved, and Mike Chastaine was chosen as the most enthusiastic runner.

Divisionals and third consecutive state title gained

Ending the season with losing only two of ninety-nine games, the Varsity squad took the state championship for their third consecutive year. The team also captured first place at the divisional tournament.

Singles representative at both divisionals and state was Ieri Christian. Ieri, a junior, captured first at divisional tournament.

Singles representative at both divisionals and state was Ieri Christian. Ieri, only a junior, captured first at divisionals, and was runner up at the state tournament.

Also placing first at the division tournament and second at State was the doubles team of Sharon Brandt and Barb Long. The other doubles team of Tracy Pellonari and Annette Pennington took fifth place at Divisionals, and had an outstanding third place win at State.

Commenting on the team's performance, Coach Janet Shaler said, "I've had the team for four years, and this year's squad has been the best by far. One of the reasons the team was so strong is we worked on strategy, rather than having to learn it. To do well at State, you must be able to take the competitive pressure. All the girls were capable of doing this very well."

Despite the fact the junior varsity returned only one member, the team ended their season with an eleven win, no loss record. The team consisted of two juniors and five sophomores.

The JV team did much better than I expected," explained Ms. Shaler, "I was pleased with their performance since I spent little time with them. I concentrated a lot on the Varsity members."

Junior Clare Sup received the "Most Valuable JV" trophy. Gail Grove was awarded the title of "Most Improved."

Teams hurt from not enough time at seasons' start

Having less than two weeks of practice before their first match presented problems for the team from the start. "It just wasn't enough time to get the team organized," stated Coach Barbara Hippensteel "I had to break alot of bad habits the girls picked up playing in grade school

Practices, consisting of warm-ups to strengthen their skills, basic drills, and practice games, were held daily.

Trevor Browne was cited as the team's outstanding match, although losing two of the three games played

Sheryl Nobley was awarded the title of most valuable. "Sheryl had a deadly spike, and an overhand serve that was hard to return," state Ms Hippensteel

Starting the season out with an underhand serve and ending with an overhand serve, Jolene Heywood received the title of most improved

Kathy Haberer CBHS low medalist at district, state

Although the loss of five experienced golfers hurt, the girls Varsity golf team acquired team victories at both the district and state tournament. Going to these tournaments with an undefeated season record, the team placed third at the district tournament and fourth at state. Junior Kathy Haberer was low medalist for Camelback at both tournaments. Kathy played number one throughout most of the season.

A better place at both district and state could have been made if the rules were the same as season play. Season matches count five scores, but tournament play counts only four. "This AIA rule has gone against us many times," stated Coach Gretchen James.

For their overall play and contribution to the team, Becky Free and Kathy Haberer shared the title of "Most Valuable Varsity" member. Lottie McFadden and Mary Discher were both chosen as "Most Improved."

John Robb and Tom Davenport were also cited for their contributions to the team, along with Marc Nelson who grabbed the most rebounds.

After the loss of their first three games, the team had to play catch up in order to post a winning season. "Our season was successful mainly because of the improvement we made," stated Coach Pete Kellen.

Trevor Browne was cited as the team's outstanding game of the season because of the team effort put into the game.

Aggressiveness and competitive spirit were why Coach Jesse Parker's Freshman Basketball Team was so successful.

"The team's quickness and ball handling ability made up for the usual lack of height," stated Coach Parker.

Although the team compiled only one win, Coach Dick McKivergan felt the wrestlers had a good season. According to McKivergan, the main difference between the wrestlers here and the ones at South, where he coached a state championship team, is attitude. Actually, to become a good wrestler one must have skill, strength, desire, and aggressiveness.

Divisionals saw most of the wrestlers still in competition until the qualifying round for state. Tim Savitt was the only wrestler to qualify, placing second in his weight division. Much improvement had been made this year, especially at divisionals, when twenty six points were earned, compared to the six scored last year. "The boys finally found out that it's fun to win," said McKivergan.

First seasons' losses due to lack of offense

Not having a strong offensive team hurt the Varsity squad badly in their first intra-mural season. Ending their league play with four wins, four losses, their chance for the district play-offs was lost when beaten by West

"The need of intersquad games is important," stated Coach Michelle Filkins. "The team needs to be put into game situations so they'll know what to do at a given time."

Because of the team effort put into the game, the game against South, the second time the teams met, was chosen as the team's outstanding game of the season

Outfielders Delania Gallardo, Sheryl Nobley and Clare Sup, along with shortstop Mary Discher, were cited as outstanding players on the team

"The season was a little disappointing because we failed to make it to divisionals, but as a whole, the team did learn alot," commented Captain Mary Discher. "With all the experience we gained, we should do a better job next year."

Varsity team averages under one error per game

With eight returning lettermen, the Varsity Baseball team played with an average of less than one error per game, and won five of their first six games. Coach Charlie Webb said this was due to "exceptional defense" and "maturity in the positions played."

Jeff Riddle was the best hitter on the team, with an exceptional .320 average and most RBIs. Tom Allen played second base with no errors.

The entire pitching staff was composed of juniors, with Craig Nelson leading in winning games: 4-0.

This was the best freshmen group we've had in several years," stated Coach Lothar Goernitz. After winning their first two meets, beating North and Maryvale, the team's third meet, against Alhambra, was lost due to injuries and misfortunes.

The many individuals praised by Coach Goernitz for their contribution to the team included. Chris Sandoval in the 100 yard dash and long jump, Randy McLaughlin in the intermediate and high hurdles, Andre McMillan in the mile run, and Marcus Nelson in the discus. Jeff Searles and Raymond Ramos were cited as outstanding 440 men, with David Tathom and Bill Florez running the 880.

Girls tennis holds State title, Invitational victory

The West High Invitational tournament produced another first place team victory, their third consecutive one. Maggie Morris and Joni Keller teamed up to take first in the doubles competition, while Diane Ruch took fourth place in singles.

First place victories in singles and doubles, combined with a fourth place win in doubles, gave the team enough points to be tied with Central High for the district championship for 1975. Lynn Cox won the singles title, easily beating her opponent in straight sets. The duo of Annette Pennington and Maggie Morris combined their talent to take first place in the doubles competition. The other doubles team, consisting of Pat Courtney and Jeri Christian, took fourth place, qualifying them for state. Diane Ruch, the other singles entry, gained valuable advancement points for the team, enabling them to tie for the title.

A State title was gained after eleven unsuccessful years. Lynn placed second in the singles competition, losing in the finals in split sets. Annette and Maggie took a hard earned fourth place victory in doubles. Pat and Jeri took a tough draw, losing first round to the team who went on to win the competition.

Being young and inexperienced made the Junior Varsity squad weaker than usual. The team consisted of two juniors, four sophomores, and two freshmen.

Although losing two games to seven, Central High was chosen as the team's most outstanding game. "The score does not show how close the match was. We were in four tiebreakers and unfortunately lost three of them," stated Coach Janet Shaler.

Rookie Coach Buehler heads team to victory

Ending their season with eleven wins and no losses, the freshman boys' tennis team was cited as "the best team the school has had," by Coach Bob Hudson. Harley Eisner and Paul Kovarik, playing number one and two, led their team to the school's first undefeated season.

With winning by only one game, the team agreed that their toughest match was against Central.

The girls' freshman tennis team ended with a ten win, one loss record, losing only to Central. The team was coached by Marilyn Buehler.

Miriam Hayenga, voted as the most valuable player, played in the number one position through out the season. Susan Gorman received the "hustle plus" award, and Pam Wugalter was chosen as the "most improved" player. Pam, along with Connie Stiteler, remained undefeated throughout the season.

The B team, consisting of Chris Pugh, Patti Sutton, Mary Discher, Carol Sup and alumni Becky Perry, placed second in the nation in their division. The team was composed of archers who didn't shoot as well as the intermediates, yet better than the beginners.

With only six months archery experience, freshmen Robin Wools, Susie Majors, Judy Heinicke, Tricia Doyle and Robi Shepard put together a C team and placed third in the nation in their division. Individually, Robin placed second, Robi third and Susie sixth.

Fifteen CBHS archers entered in three different divisions, competed for the National title last August. Senior Carole Cheuvront and Patti Iske, along with alumnis Sandi Van Kilsdonk and Jocelyn Wendorf, brought home gold medals for winning the A team title. In the five years the girls have attended Nationals, five titles have been won and thirty-three national records have been set in their respective divisions.

In the intermediate girls clout, Sandi placed third, with Patti right behind her in fourth. This division has the girls shooting at targets 140 yards away.

Eighth State title belongs to Girls Archery team

Although our two top archers were not able to compete in the state tournament, the CBHS archery team won their eighth consecutive state title in 1975.

Shooting a collegiate 600, Janie individually placed second, with Patti coming in fourth, Chris fifth, Marie seventh, and Jocelyn ninth.

When the State Archery Tournament for 1975 was being held, our top two archers did not compete. Instead, Sandi Van Kilsdonk and Carol Cheuvront were in St. Louis, Missouri trying out for the USA Archery team. In order to compete in the World Target Archery Tournament, held in Switzerland, one must place in the top four positions. With only the top men and women trying out for a position on the team, former CBHS archer Irene Lorensen placed first. In fifth place, missing the team by just four points, was Carole, and Sandi close behind, placed sixth. "To have three archers in the top six places was quite an accomplishment," said Coach Gretchen James.

State champions for 1975 include Jocelyn Wendorf, Chris Pugh, Coach Gretchen James, Marie Van Kilsdonk, and Janie Wendorf.

Gymnastics successful during second season

The girls' gymnastics team's second year of competition started with two consecutive victories. Instead of the beginning routines performed last year, the girls did class-two intermediate compulsory routines at their meets.

Shannon Deppner, Sally Sanford and Liz Mathews went "all around" in their meets, performing in each of the four exercises. Individuals cited as outstanding in events included: Christi Yonker and Liz Mathews on the uneven parallel bars; Shannon Deppner and Sally Sanford on the floor exercise; Julie Orr, Lisa Bierer and Liz Mathews on the balance beam; and Shannon Deppner, Leslie Hall and Sally Sanford on the vaulting horse.

"With East High being the only other school in the district having a gymnastics team, it was quite a thrill to beat them," stated Coach Monica Healey. This was Ms. Healey's first year coaching the team.

Districtwide construction begins in 1975-76 year

The passing of the Phoenix Union High School System Bond Election in Spring of last year gave the system over twenty million dollars to improve education in the PUHSS. Among the improvements will be the construction of auditoriums for both Central and Camelback High Schools.

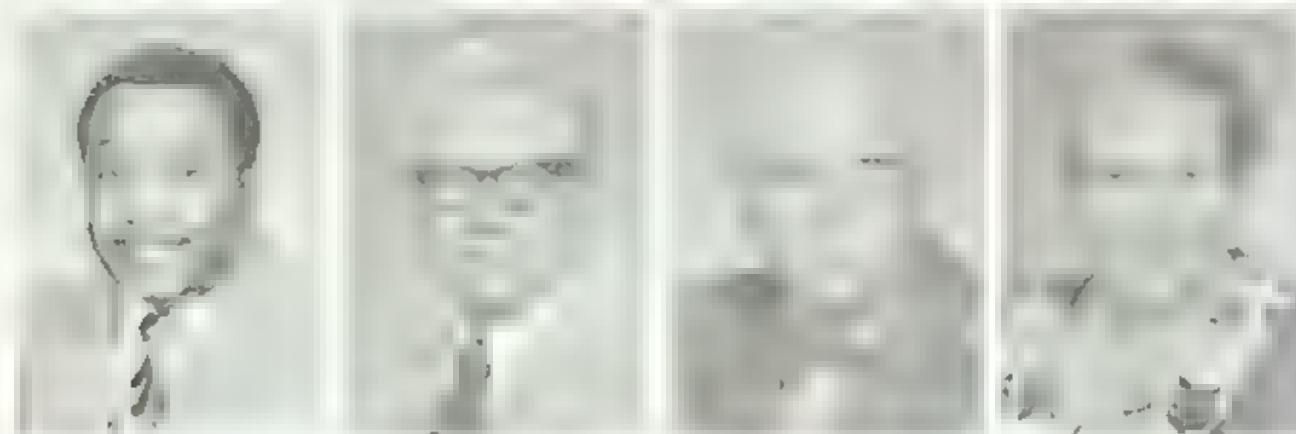

The board moved for the expansion of Title 9, by increasing equal opportunity in sports activities. Dr. Gerald DeGrow, Superintendent of PUHSS, commented

"We have developed one of the best girls physical education programs around, and I hope we can continue to expand and increase it."

Additionally, the Board of Education has provided Forensic teams with travel expense funds, promoted the enlargement of the exceptional education program in all schools, and assisted the Maryvale and Camelback Bands in attending national bicentennial kickoffs in March of this year.

Dr. Gerald DeGrow, Assistant Superintendent in charge of construction, looks over plans for the system's new high school in West Phoenix.

Principal Jack Comstock discusses various alterations CBHS will undergo during upcoming construction phases, in an early morning staff meeting.

Administration serves CBHS students, staff

Serving his first year at Camelback, Principal Jack Comstock emphasizes that, "The administration's purpose is to serve the students and teachers; it all comes down to learning." Comstock came from Michigan, where he was the principal of a 10th through 12th grade school.

The North Central Evaluation, campus construction projects, and music department's trip to Washington, D.C. kept the administrative staff busy throughout the year. Working as a team, the administration was highly successful in organizing and guiding this year's activities.

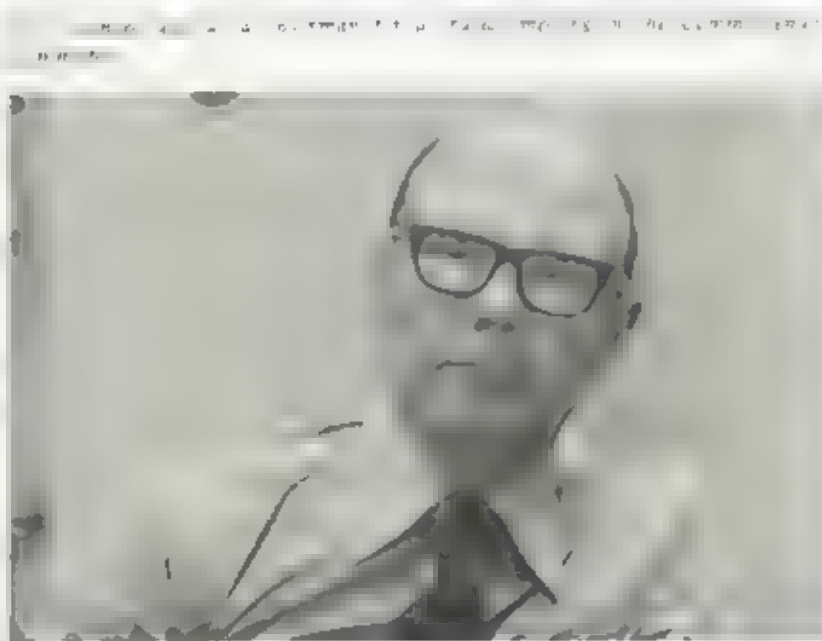

Comstock commented, "I am tremendously impressed with the state of Arizona and its people, and I am very proud to be associated with this cooperative group of people here at Camelback."

Video Productions new class for fundamentals of television

Video Productions, a one semester course introduced this year, was designed to teach the fundamentals of working in the television industry and how it relates to today's society in its use as an entertainment, advertising, and educational media.

Mr. James Harvey, the instructor, required the students to produce their own programs using the video tape equipment in the Instructional Materials Center in the library. Shows included demonstrations and parodies of actual television shows.

New emphasis was placed on Communications and Mass Media. The course was centered around teaching the students to be intelligent consumers of today's medias as well as to produce programs on their own.

Students learn about memory typewriter's use

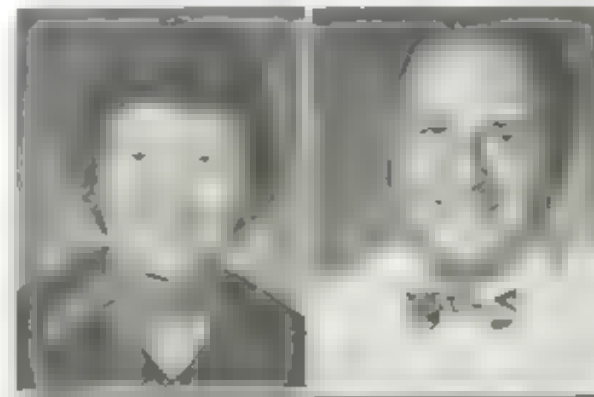

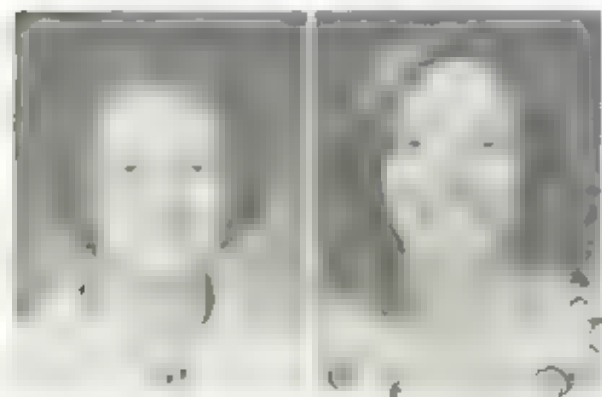

Elva O'Quinn, business department chairman, expressed pride in the students taking Business Education and other business related classes.

Students learned to operate memory typewriters. The memory typewriter can double the efficiency of a good secretary, typing up to 260 words a minute. It operates on a preprogrammed tape which is fed into the machine. Specific names, dates, and places are added later and in this way documents and other necessary papers may be produced more rapidly.

The typewriters were kept at CBHS the first semester and then were sent to West High for the second semester. Ms. Charlene Lyons is the new H.E.R.O. teacher.

Industrial Arts moves to new Shop building

During the spring the Industrial Art Department moved to the new building. It was located on the site of the former Varsity Baseball field.

The teachers and their classes supervised the loading and the placement of the equipment. Second semester the teachers began teaching their regular classes in the new building.

The new building was a welcome addition, because it entailed abandoning small cramped rooms for larger working areas with modern equipment, better lighting and just an overall improvement.

Apathy plagues Freshmen, class council inactive

Due to a lack of participation, the Freshmen Class Council called meetings only occasionally. Ms. Melba Constable commented, "The lack of cohesiveness if thought to be caused by students' new adjustment to high school life."

Frosh activities included candy cane sales, a profitable car wash, basketbrawl activities, and the usual yuletide chain. Working with a select number of students, the class managed to raise enough money to build up their incoming balance of 'nothing'.

It is the hope of this year's sponsors that the class of '79 will grow in spirit.

Sophs donate carnations to elderly ladies

The Sophomore Class earned 105 dollars by washing cars. The money was used for a Halloween party for hospitalized children at St. Joseph's Hospital. Cookies and candy were distributed to the children. The children played bingo and prizes were awarded to the winners. The rest of the money was saved for the basketball game.

Flaming ahead, piglets were sold to help raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Charitable acts include young carnations to elderly ladies, clearing up picnic areas on St. Valentine's Day, and picking different kinds of fruit for St. Vincent De Paul.

A grid of 14 black and white portrait photographs of students, arranged in two rows of seven. The top row features seven female students with various hairstyles and clothing. The bottom row features seven students, including both males and females, also with diverse hairstyles and clothing. The images are slightly faded and have a vintage quality.

A grid of 21 black and white portrait photographs of students, arranged in three rows of seven and one row of three. The portraits are of young people, likely high school or college students, with various hairstyles and clothing. The images are somewhat faded and have a grainy texture. The first row contains seven portraits, the second row contains seven portraits, and the third row contains three portraits. The portraits are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with some slight variations in the spacing between them. The overall appearance is that of a yearbook or a collection of student photos from a past era.

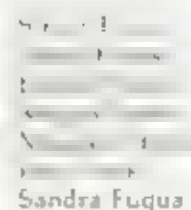

A grid of 21 black and white portrait photographs of students, arranged in three rows of seven and one row of three. The students are of various ethnicities and are dressed in formal or semi-formal attire typical of the mid-20th century. The portraits are set against a dark background and are framed by a thin white border. The overall layout is a 4x7 grid with the last row containing only three portraits.

Junior Class raises money for Prom '76

The Junior Class Council's activities this year included four very profitable candy sales, a non profit assistance program for Saint Joseph's childrens' ward, and a canned food drive for Saint Vincent DePaul's Charity Dining Room.

We managed to accomplish a lot this year with relatively few people commented Debby Douglass, Vice President. "One of our goals was to make Prom '76 one of the best ever. We worked hard on it, and I feel we met our goal."

The Junior Class sponsors were: Scott Ridenour, Frances Porter, Betty Houston, Del Waite, and Paul Tsakiris.

Save a little for tomorrow.

Blade staffers jump from the frying pan into the fire. This pose was symbolic of the controversial style some issues of the Blade adopted this year. To cover the school news - join the Blade!

Do YOU have enough class to be a SHIELD staffer?

Answer the following questions to find out if you are fit to join us.

1. Do you enjoy writing?
 a) yes b) no (c) could care less (d) indeed
2. Who is your favorite actor?
 a) Nabors (b) Don Knotts (c) Bullwinkle Moose (d) Sir Lawrence Olivier
3. What word do you think best describes George Washington?
 a) brave b) kind c) smart d) polite
4. Who is your favorite writer?
 a) Mark Twain (b) Agatha Christie c) J.R.R. Tolkien d) C.S. Lewis
5. Who is your favorite composer?
 (a) Irving Berlin (b) Sammy Cahn c) Franz Schubert d) Ludwig van Beethoven
6. How do you feel about busing?
 (a) for (b) against c) neither d) both

HOW DID YOU RATE?

If you answered (d) to all of the questions congratulations! You are just the type person we are looking for.

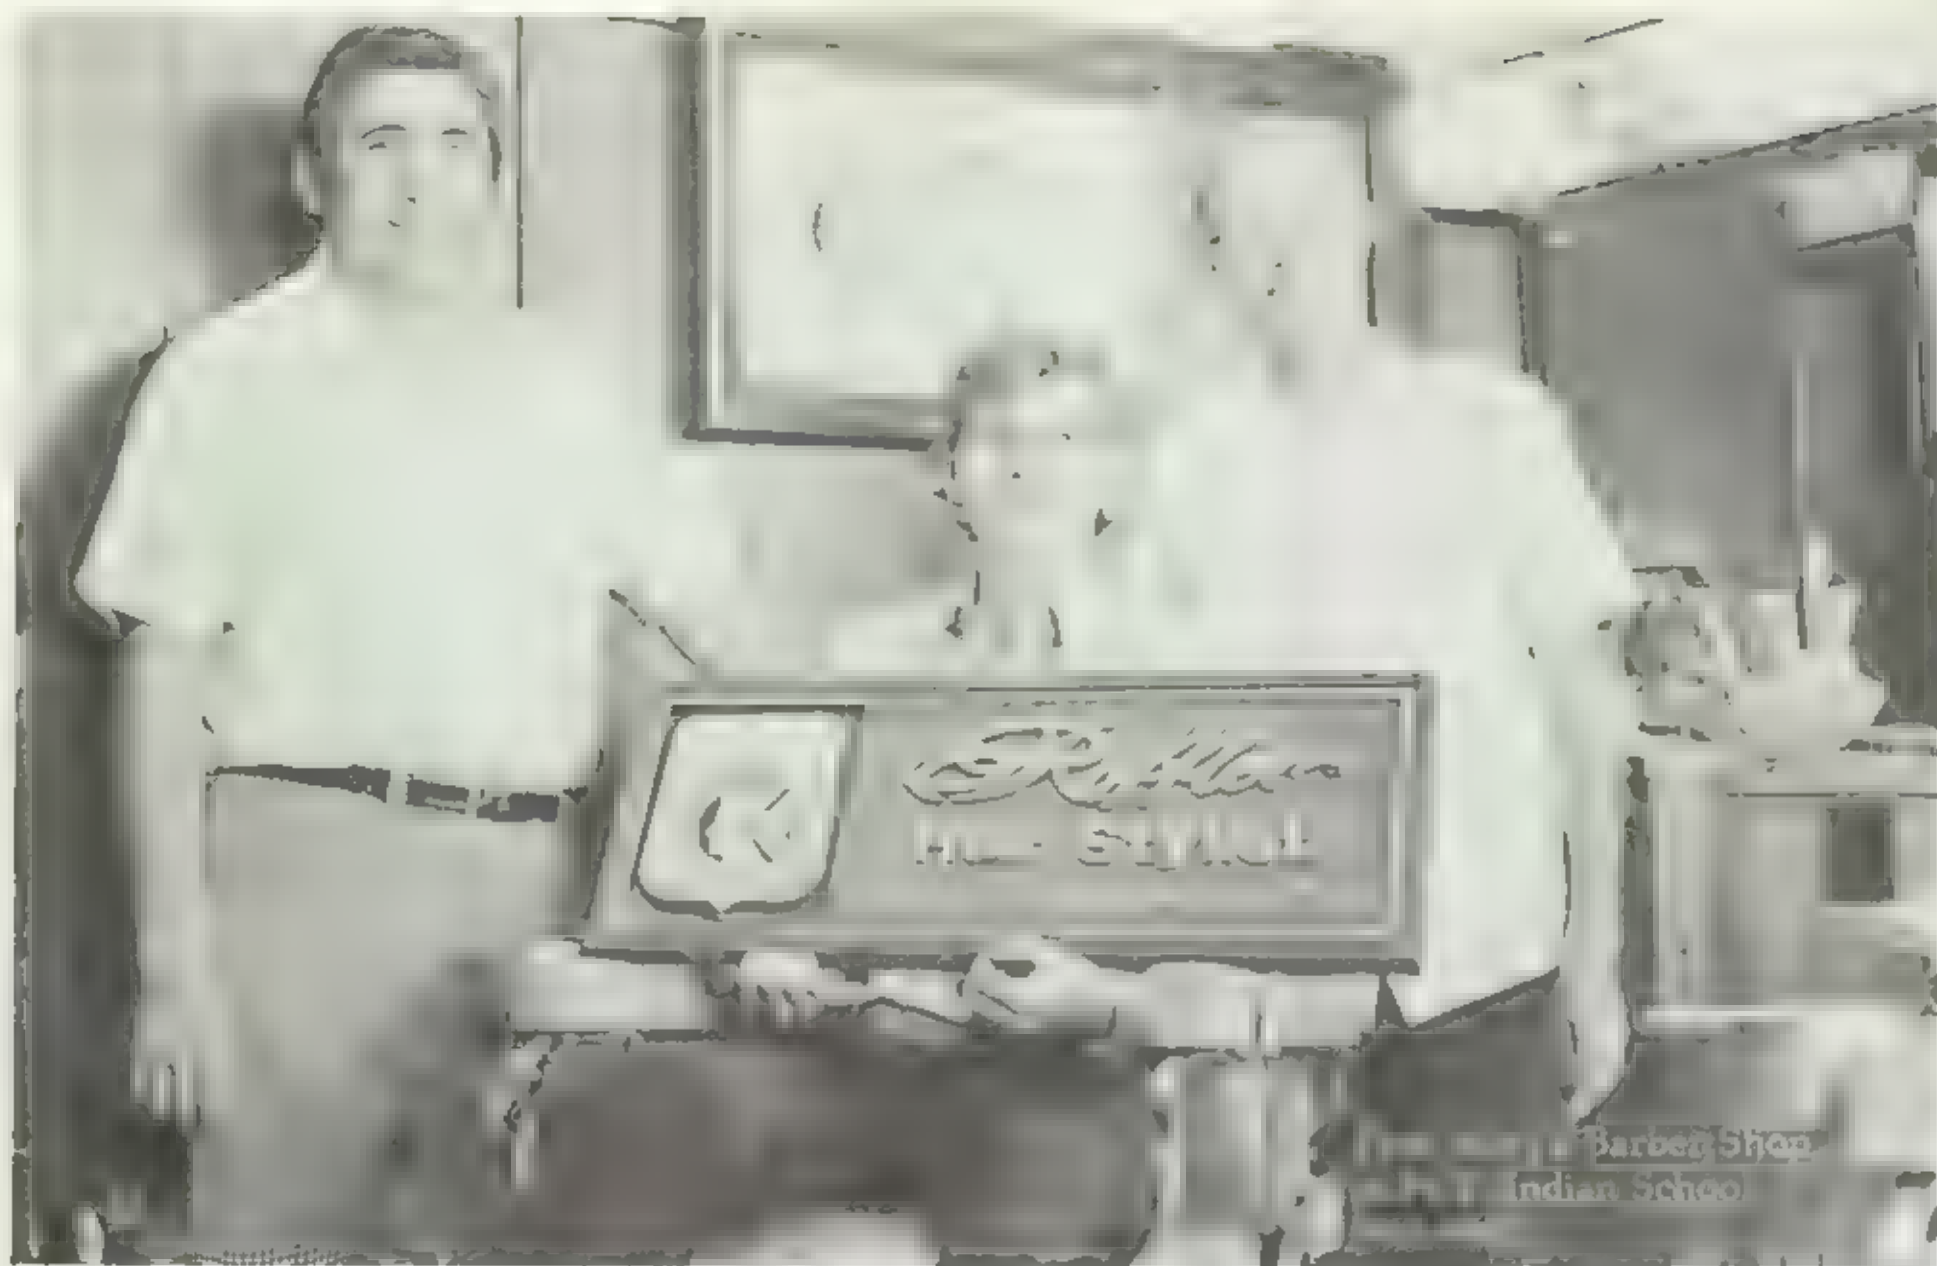

If you answered (a) and (b) at all of the questions, don't lose hope almost anyone can raise their standards to meet ours, if they try.

If you answered (c) to all of the questions may we suggest that you consider joining the Blade staff you would probably fit right in.

THANK YOU

- *Roger Bean, Julie Cramer, and everyone at Community Press, for their patience and understanding when we were late
- *Ron Nielsen, for standing by
- *Bourne Publishing, for our theme song
- *Magna Labs, for processing our color prints
- *Daddy Morris, and Mommy Virginia, for taking finished pages to the printer
- *Martha Fitzgerald, our "Voice"
- *All clubs, teams, sponsors, and coaches, who had to have their pictures retaken
- *Jeff Stone, for donating innumerable hours to the production of the SHIELD, without credit
- *Steve McGlocklin, for being our Messiah
- *God who art in 3207
- *McDonald's, for gallons of vanilla shakes, and hours of charades
- *Monty Python and National Lampoon, for untold ecstasy and rapture
- *Woody Hayes, for leading the Buckeye Boys to victory
- *Clyde S. Spartan, for being our buddy
- *Charme Morehart, for working too hard staying too late, and putting up with too much
